River Rock School

Handcrafted Education

A progressive, independent, state recognized school for children K-8th (5 by December)

River Rock's mission is to inspire students to actively seek knowledge, to think independently and creatively, and to embrace challenges. Fostering a love of learning and a sense of social responsibility early in life sets the foundation for compassionate citizenship.

When people ask me how my son is “doing in school,” I almost have to laugh. Of course, the answer is always “GREAT,” “AMAZING,” etc. He is being treated as an individual, being met where he is, and continually in a state of growth. And he loves it!

Individual Respect — Teachers support children’s natural inquisitiveness, respond to varied learning needs, and participate in the discoveries that children make. The students’ interests, needs, and individual learning styles drive the curriculum. The low teacher to student ratio allows teachers to work closely with students and provides time for deeper investigations.

Creative Academics — Critical and analytical thinking are tools that are essential in today’s quickly changing world. River Rock teachers are focused on teaching these skills through a combination of traditional academics and daily art experiences that support creative thinking, collaboration, and problem solving.

Social Responsibility — The best learning takes place when children feel confident, safe, and involved. River Rock teaches and supports conflict resolution skills and emphasizes working collaboratively. Community problem solving through Council Meeting is at the heart of the school. In these meetings students participate in a democratic process where they self-reflect, take responsibility for their actions and learn the art of respecting each individual. This process fosters the development of personal integrity. For more information about Council Meetings, please visit our website.
